

OS

This is a photograph of a human skull specimen, viewed from the top. The skull is open, with the upper portion of the calvaria (skull cap) reflected to reveal the underlying brain tissue. The reflected bone is a light tan color, showing the sutures between the cranial bones. The brain is visible at the bottom of the image, showing the characteristic gyri and sulci of the cerebral cortex. The brain is a darker, reddish-brown color. The text 'OS' is printed in blue, bold, sans-serif font, centered over the reflected bone. The text 'DUREMERE' is printed in blue, bold, sans-serif font, positioned to the left of the brain, over the reflected bone.
